William A. Shea Stadium

The Mets are in their second season at their gleaming home, built by the City of New York for an estimated $25,000,000 and financed through the issuance of New York City Bonds.

The edifice was named by the New York City Board of Estimate. The name honors William A. Shea, an attorney who spearheaded a drive to construct a stadium as a prelude to bringing National League baseball back to New York, following the defection of the Dodgers and Giants to the West Coast. Ground was broken for the stadium October 28, 1961.

It is located in the geographic and population center of New York City, at Grand Central Parkway, Northern Boulevard and Roosevelt Avenue in Flushing, Queens, adjacent to the New York World's Fair Grounds. It is in the center of a $125,000,000 complex of widened parkways, with quick and easy access, and surrounded by acres of parking. It is within easy walking distance of the IRT and BMT elevated lines. Both Kennedy and LaGuardia Airports are just a few minutes away by taxi. The Long Island railroad station and the Flushing Bay Marina are nearby.

Designed by Praeger-Kavanaugh-Waterbury, this is an all-purpose sports stadium. For example, two rotating sections of more than 5,000 seats each are electrically powered to move on tracks from the first and third base lines to parallel the sidelines of a football field.

Capacity is about 55,300 for baseball and about 60,000 for football.

There are five tiers, including the press and club level. Ninety-six percent of all the seats are located between the foul lines.

Spectators may reach their seats by 24 wide and gradual ramps and by 21 escalators. The escalators alone are designed to carry 56,000 persons an hour.

There are 54 public rest rooms, 27 for women, 27 for men. Each women's rest room has its own lounge or powder room.

There are modern restaurants for season and combination box seat ticket holders, and dining facilities for those members of the working news media traveling with the Mets.

An attraction in itself is the Stadiarama Scoreboard, an enormous electronic brain which keeps the fan advised of games elsewhere, helps fans on the scene keep score, shows pictures, responds in brilliant colors to music played on the stadium organ, and actually has a memory.

Created and engineered by General Indicator Corp. of New York, the board is 86 feet high, 175 feet long and weighs over sixty tons. A white cycloramic shell surrounding the back of the main unit towers higher than a seven-story building.

At the top of the board, an 18 by 24 foot rear projection screen will permit the display of full-color photos at night games. Color movies might also be shown.

A message board capable of transmitting news bulletins and lyrics to Sing-Alongs can flash more than 270 illuminated characters within two seconds of transmittal. Approximately 80 miles of wiring is required to connect the various controls and effects.

The Mets have invested six million dollars in stadium improvements in addition to the City bonds outlay. The Mets' expenditures have been in the scoreboard, restaurant facilities and permanent club offices.

The Manager and his Coaches

Casey Stengel, whose ten big league pennants virtually assure him of eventual enshrinement in Baseball's Hall of Fame, is surrounded this season by one of the most talented coaching staffs ever assembled. Perhaps as much will be written about "Perfessor" Stengel's faculty board as about their pupils.

The two 1965 coaching additions appear as destined as Casey to make it to Cooperstown, Warren Spahn and Yogi Berra. They join incumbents Don Heffner and Wes Westrum, no slouches as ballplayers either, in their day.

STENGEL, Charles Dillon "Casey" Manager

Born July 30, 1890, at Kansas City, Missouri. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Batted and threw lefthanded. Married and lives in Glendale, California. Former outfielder.

Players

BEARNARTH, Lawrence Donald "Larry" Pitcher

Born September 11, 1941, in New York, N. Y. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 203 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married and has one daughter. Lives in Huntington Station, L. I., N. Y.

A steady relief pitcher in his first two major league seasons, Larry occasionally acts as though he could be an effective starter. He pitched nine of the middle innings in shutout fashion the night the Mets and Giants batted 23 innings in the longest double-header in history. Nine days later, he allowed six hits and one run in a 10-inning, winning relief job against the Cubs. In the latter game, he became the first Met pitcher ever to register four straight victories. Toward the end of the season, a sore shoulder slowed him. But the onetime St. John's University (B.A. in English) baseball star reports a complete recovery. John Murphy was responsible for landing Bearnarth for the Mets and has helped him with pitching tips, too. During the off-season, Larry is a teaching substitute in Suffolk County, L. I., and makes a lot of banquet talks for the Mets.

BETHKE, James Charles "Jim" Pitcher

Born November 5, 1946, at Falls City, Neb. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 192 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Single and lives in Kansas City, Mo.

From the time he was six years old and his dad was a Little League coach, Jim's father has tutored him toward a big league career. An old Kansas City friend, through a letter to Casey Stengel, brought Jim to the Mets' attention and the youngster showed he has a good fastball in his first pro season. At his high school which had no baseball team, he lettered in football and was second team all-area in basketball.

BUIST, Michael Patrick "Mike" Pitcher

Born March 17, 1947, at Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single and lives in Hamilton.

A Canadian of Scottish extraction, Mike gave up a promising career in professional hockey to sign with the Mets. The New York, Detroit and Toronto National Hockey League clubs had invited him for tryouts when he made his decision. George Begley and Bill Kelly signed him. And after a winning first season which saw him complete three of his six starts, including one shutout, the live-stuff kid was promoted to the varsity roster, the youngest player thereon.

CANNIZZARO, Christopher John "Chris" Catcher

Born May 3, 1938, at Oakland, Calif. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married, has one son and lives in Fremont, Calif.

Chris will be the first to admit that he became a .300 hitter last year after he stopped swinging for the fences. He has batted 341 official times as a major leaguer and the first homer he hits after April 12 will be his first with the Cards or Mets. Chris began leveling his swing last mid-season and from July 31 through Aug. 18, he went on an 11-game hitting streak, raising his average from .236 to .324.

CHRISTOPHER, Joseph O'Neal Outfielder

Born December 13, 1935, at Fredriksted, St. Croix, Virgin Islands. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 182 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married, has one daughter and lives in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico.

Perhaps the highest compliment which can be paid Joltin' Joe is that he played the last 127 straight games of the '64 season for Casey Stengel who likes to platoon. Joe was the Mets' most consistent socker, setting club records for runs, hits and singles (113), and leading the '64 club in doubles, triples, total bases (253), slugging percentage (.466), runs batted in and walks (48). Given his first real chance to hang in there against all kinds of pitching, Christopher had four 4-hit games. He set a club record with 12 total bases on a double, two triples and a homer against his former Pirate mates on Aug. 18.

CISCO, Galen Bernard

Pitcher

Born March 7, 1937, at St. Mary's, Ohio. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married and has two sons. Lives in St. Mary's.

The curveballing Cisco kid pitched his first two big league shut-outs last season, beating the Dodgers on a 4-hitter and the Reds on a 6-hitter. But he probably gave his guttiest clutch effort in the memorable 23-inning marathon against the Giants on May 31, working the last nine innings. The first eight were shutout, but the Giants then nicked him for the two deciding runs in the 8-6 contest. Captain and linebacker on Ohio State University's Rose Bowl football team in 1958, Galen was signed for the Red Sox by Scout Denny Galehouse. Johnny Murphy, onetime farm director at Boston, recommended Galen's purchase in '62 after John had switched allegiance to the Mets.

Born August 4, 1946, at Springfield, Mass. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats lefthanded and throws righthanded. Single and lives in Springfield.

Called "Case" or "Casey" because of his initials, Collins showed a good glove and strong arm in playing 28 games at first base and 14 at third last season. Red Fazio signed him, a three-letter athlete at Technical High. In college, he'll major in English and Political Science. He likes to read Ian Fleming mysteries.

COWAN, William Rolland

"Billy"

Outfielder

Born August 28, 1938, at Calhoun City, Miss. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married, and lives in Mesa, Ariz.

This speedy, long-ball hitting graduate of the University of Utah came over from the Cubs last January 15 in a straight swap for George Altman. His 12 steals last year would have tied the all-time Mets record and his 19 homers would have been second on the Mets. He earned his promotion to the Cubs by being named Minor League Player of 1963 at Salt Lake City. There, he led the Pacific Coast League in RBI's and total bases (318). Playing in every game, he led the outfielders in putouts, finished fifth in batting and was third in steals with 31. He landed an All-Star berth. In 1962, he led the Northwest league in homers. Billy won the Met fans last year as a Cub when in a June 9 doubleheader, he struck out six times (four against Larry Bearnarth and two against Galen Cisco), and first time up the next game, he belted a home run. He was an outstanding basketball player at Bakersfield, Calif., Junior College.

DAVEY, Jerauld Edward "Jerry" Pitcher

Born February 26, 1946, at Sacramento, Calif. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 197 lbs. Throws and bats lefthanded. Single. Lives in West Sacramento.

If this first-year prospect makes it to the big leagues, he'll be the second in the family to do this. He was preceded by his cousin, Babe Dahlgren, onetime first baseman with the Red Sox, Yankees, Pirates and other clubs. Jerry's dad also played in the Yankee farm system. Jerry's most impressive accomplishment last year was fanning 10 straight Santa Barbara batters for a California League record. Scout Roy Partee signed him for the Mets.

Born March 4, 1939, at Frostburg, Md. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 212 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married, has two daughters and lives in Timonium, Md.

This hefty, young veteran, purchased for $30,000 from the Giants in a special draft after the 1963 season, developed into an effective workhorse for the Mets. He worked most innings and started as many games, 34, as any Met pitcher. He was a .500 pitcher against the Cardinals and Phillies (1-1 each) and was 2-1 against Houston and 3-1 against the Cubs. It was against the Cubs that he completed his first game after eight incomplete efforts. The date was May 26 and he was the beneficiary of the mightiest Met batting assault of all time, 19-1. He wound up with eight completions. Jack came to the majors in 1959 and earned quite a splash as a member of Baltimore's "Baby Bird" pitching staff. Earlier, Jack attended the University of Georgia.

Born Aug. 25, 1942, in Worcester, Mass. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Wellesley, Mass.

The same day Yogi Berra signed with the Mets, Nov. 17, 1964, the Mets announced they had signed this coveted Notre Damer who can fly with the wind and hit with power. Last season, he batted .360 with six homers for the Irish. Later, playing for Sturgis, S.D., he led the strong Basin semipro league in batting (.361), runs (52), RBI (54), hits (77) and triples (10). He was second with 12 homers and he had 10 doubles in 50 games. Accompanying the U.S. squad to the Olympics in Japan, he homered his first and last times up and batted .355. The Japanese offered him a bonus to play in Nippon. In a 13-game screening in the Florida Instructional League, Shaun batted .316 and he won both 1-0 games of a doubleheader with a last-inning RBI-single and a home run.

FARM HAND ASSISTING IN SPRING TRAINING.

Born May 12, 1940, at Evanston, Ill. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single and lives in Glencoe, Ill.

Signed out of the University of Illinois by former major league catcher Walter Millies, Lloyd has developed into one of the finer defensive receivers in the Mets organization. Under management of another former big league catcher, Clyde McCullough, Lloyd's bat came to life last year and helped Auburn in its stretch drive to the New York-Penn League championship.

Born December 19, 1944, at Binghamton, N. Y. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Throws lefthanded, bats righthanded. Single, lives in Binghamton.

Drafted from the Twins in December, 1963, Rob proved to be a fine selection for the Mets. Strikeout king of the Florida State League in his first pro season, Gardner followed up with the New York-Penn League's top winning percentage, .900, in helping Auburn to the '64 pennant.

GONDER, Jesse Lemar

Catcher

Born January 20, 1936, at Monticello, Ark. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats lefthanded, throws righthanded. Married, has two children and lives in Oakland, Calif.

One of the best hitting catchers in the majors, Jesse also permits few liberties to baserunners. He has a strong and accurate arm.

Jesse got his first major league shot with the Yankees under Casey Stengel and played regularly under the same Casey for the first time last year. Jesse accounted for half of the 70 runs batted in by the Met catching staff, one of the league's most productive on offense. He came over from the Reds in a mid-1963 trade for Charlie Neal. He's an alumnus of the same McClymond High in Oakland, Calif., which helped prepare Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson for the majors.

FARM HAND ASSISTING IN SPRING TRAINING.

Born June 6, 1944, at Niles, Calif. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 155 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Hayward, Calif.

This San Francisco State College product led the California League shortstops in fielding last season and it didn't surprise those who observed the Mets' 1964 early camp. Harrelson, who had broken his left arm the year before, showed the best range and strongest arm of any shortstop in the early camp. Roy Partee signed him for New York.

Born May 10, 1937, at Henning, Tenn. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married, has four sons and lives in Henning.

Although his home-run total slipped, Jim enjoyed his best all-around season with the Mets in 1964, achieving his highest batting average and runs-batted-in totals. He seemed to arrive during the second half, batting .305 after July 10. He undoubtedly was slowed earlier by severely torn ankle ligaments suffered in an exhibition game in Mexico City. Jim was an education major at the University of Mississippi and Memphis State, playing varsity basketball at the former school. On Aug. 7, 1963, he became the first Met to hit for the cycle, hitting a single, double, triple and homer in that order against the Cardinals who had relinquished him to the Mets in the original October, 1961, expansion draft.

HINSLEY, Jerry Dean

Pitcher

Born April 9, 1945, at Hugo, Oklahoma. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Single and lives in Las Cruces, New Mexico.

This fuzzy-cheeked draftee from the Pittsburgh organization (where he never pitched) is regarded as one of the Mets' hottest prospects. His fastball and poise impressed Manager Casey Stengel in training camp last spring. With help from Don Heffner who managed him and Johnny Murphy who coached him, Jerry is said to have added a fast curve with the St. Petersburg, Florida Instructional League team, and might be ready for the big show. The Mets drafted Hinsley on the basis of reports by Scout Red Murff when he watched the lad pitch in high school. After pitching winter ball, Hinsley took up technical engineering at New Mexico State University near his home. His catcher in high school was his twin brother, Larry, who had a trial with the Pirates and Mets.

Second Baseman

Born February 23, 1941, in St. Louis, Mo. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married, has one daughter and lives in Overland, Mo.

Ron is the Mets' first bonafide All-Star, having been voted to the starting lineup in last year's classic (he singled his first time up) by his opposing players, the supreme accolade. Since the Mets bought him conditionally from the Braves' organization two years ago, he has been something special, being voted Most Valuable Met in 1963 and '64. He led the club in hitting both years, too. Ron does everything well, including making the double play. He's a head-first scrapper on the baselines and only an occasional backache prevented an even better 1964. In '63, he was runnerup for N.L. Rookie of the Year.

JACKSON, Alvin Neil"Al"*Pitcher

Born December 25, 1935, at Waco, Texas. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 165 lbs. Throws and bats lefthanded. Married and has two sons. Lives in St. Albans, N. Y.

This little gamecock led the Mets in victories, shutouts (3) and complete games (11) last season. Since being drafted from the Pirates in the expansion selections of Oct., 1961, Al has won more games than any other Met pitcher. He might have done even better in '64 but for lack of batting support. During one frustrating stretch of 36 innings, the Mets couldn't score a run for him. Six of his losses were by shutout. In six other defeats, the Mets got just one or two runs. His most thrilling victory came on the last Friday of the season when he delayed the Cardinals' pennant clinching with a 1-0 verdict over Bob Gibson. Al first gained attention as an athlete at Monroe High in Waco, Tex., where he was all-state in football and baseball three straight years. Later, he attended both Wiley and Paul Quinn Colleges in Texas. In his first season with the Mets, he pitched four shutouts, one a 1-hitter and made the Topps All-Rookie team. Last winter, he was employed by Howard Clothes Stores in Jamaica, N. Y., and spoke for the Mets on the banquet circuit.

JONES, Cleon JosephOutfielder

Born August 4, 1942, at Plateau, Alabama. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats righthanded, throws lefthanded. Married and lives in Mobile, Alabama.

This young man can do it all and has the raw material to become the Mets' first superstar. After only two pro seasons, he already has had a major league taste. Last season was spent stabilizing himself at Buffalo where he finished second in the International League in runs scored. He made the All-Star team. He stole 12 bases in 14 tries. The year before at Raleigh, Cleon stole 20 out of 22. Scout Julian Morgan signed Cleon out of the same Plateau, Ala., area which sent Henry and Tommie Aaron, Billy Williams and Willie McCovey to the majors.

Infielder

Born December 27, 1937 at Spring Grove, Ill. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married, has two daughters and lives in San Diego, Calif.

Obtained from Cincinnati for Tim Lincecum on July 28, 1964, Bobby caught fire at second and third for the Mets. From July 31 through Sept. 6, he batted .302. Then, in a game against the Dodgers, Willie Davis' spikes slashed a five-stitch wound in Bobby's wrist. He insisted on playing despite the injury and with a hand-capped swing, he batted only .165 the rest of the way. This University of Illinois grad is the brother of former major league infielder Billy Klaus. He was acquired by the Mets on the recommendation of Coach Don Heckner, who managed Bobby at San Diego a few years ago. During the off-season, Bobby verifies receipts in the vault of the U.S. National Bank in San Diego.

First Baseman

Born November 3, 1944, in New York City, N. Y. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 208 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Single. Lives in White Plains, N. Y.

Smarting from a demotion to Buffalo May 14, 1964, Ed came back swinging to the Mets on Memorial Day and it would appear he's in the majors to stay. Batting a limp .139 when sent down, Ed, upon his return, tore off a 13-game hitting streak, then hit in 14 out of 15 games. At one point, his average had climbed to .273. He might have made it to the .300 mark if he hadn't insisted on playing with wrist and ankle injuries which caused a slump. Now, he's one of the youngest regulars in the N.L. Ed was signed at 17 for a sizable bonus out of James Monroe High in the Bronx where he hit 21 homers in three seasons, breaking the school mark set by Hall of Famer Hank Greenberg. During the off-season, Ed has been apprenticing in the stockbrokerage firm of Brand, Grumet and Siegel.

The king-sized righthander with the deceptive motion came over from the Phillies in the Frank Thomas deal on August 7, 1964, and continued to strike out an average of more than one an inning, a sure sign of good stuff. In fact, in his very first Met start, he fanned seven Cubs in his first four innings. He is a student at Brigham Young University in the off season.

Scouted by Marty Jones and signed by Pete Gebrian at a substantial bonus, Jim demonstrated a quick bat and sure hands as a shortstop his first season. At William Penn Charter High, in Philadelphia, Jim starred in football, basketball and baseball, being named most valuable on his team in all three sports as a senior.

LEWIS, Johnny Joe

Outfielder

Born August 10, 1939, at Greenville, Alabama. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 189 lbs. Bats lefthanded, throws righthanded. Widower. Has two children. Lives in Pensacola, Fla.

Johnny came over with Pitcher Gordon Richardson from the Cards last Dec. 8 in a trade for Tracy Stallard. Last spring, Lewis gave every sign that he was about to achieve his potential. He hit for power, ran the bases with speed and shone in the outfield with the glove and arm. He was voted the outstanding rookie in the Cards' camp and opened the season as the regular rightfielder. However, he tailed off and slipped back to Jacksonville where it was discovered he had a broken bone near his ankle. He's fully recovered now and came to the Mets' camp a candidate for the centerfield job.

"Ron"

Pitcher

Born April 4, 1942, at Wakefield, R. I. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 168 lbs. Throws lefthanded, bats righthanded. Single and lives in Shannock, R. I.

This graduate of the New London, Conn., shipyards typifies the opportunities available to talented youngsters who sign with the Mets organization. In his second year as a pro, Ron appeared in 25 big league games and achieved a pinnacle with a 4-2 victory over Houston on Aug. 2. He had earned the big chance the previous year when he led the New York-Penn League in completions with 19 and was second in strikeouts and earned run average.

"Tug"

Pitcher

Born August 30, 1944 at Martinez, Calif. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats righthanded and throws lefthanded. Single and lives in Vallejo, Calif.

Nicknamed "Tug" as an infant because of his penchant for tugging knickknacks off the furniture, Frank might better be called "The Barber" because his hobby is cutting the hair of his teammates. He's pretty good at shaving the corners, too, witness his banner debut in pro ball in 1964. Signed by Scout Roy Partee out of Vallejo Junior College, Tug pitched a 7-inning no-hitter against the Houston farmhands for Cocoa last July 3 and finished third in the Florida Rookie League in ERA and strikeouts. At Cocoa, he started five and completed them all. He added a completion for Auburn in the New York-Penn League flag drive. Tug's older brother, Hank, an outfielder on the roster of the Mets' Buffalo farm club, hit 26 homers at Salinas last season.

McMILLAN, Roy David

Infielder

Born July 17, 1930, at Bonham, Texas. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 165 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married, has three children and lives in Bonham.

After the Mets acquired Roy McMillan from Milwaukee in a trade for Jay Hook and cash, May 8, 1964, their infield jelled and they were tougher to beat. One of the finest fielding shortstops of modern times, he was the National League's starter in the 1956 and '57 All-Star Games. The product of Texas A. & M. is one of the few shortstops ever to lead the N.L. in fielding four different seasons as he did in 1956, '57, '58 and '61. Three other times, he led in putouts and four times in assists. He never led in errors.

Although not a big threat offensively, Roy has excellent bat control. He fanned only 18 times in a total of 416 at-bats last season.

MILLER, Larry Don

Pitcher

Born June 19, 1937, at Topeka, Kansas. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 192 lbs. Throws and bats lefthanded. Married and has a son and a daughter. Lives in Topeka.

This very versatile young man came to the Mets last October in a swap which sent Dick Smith to the Dodgers. Larry had come out of the Army six months before and completed eight out of 10 starts while compiling a perfect record at Albuquerque. When Dodger lefty John Podres underwent arm surgery, Larry was called to the Big Club and beat the Pirates twice and the world champion Cardinals and the Phillies once each. The 6-1 win over the Phillies, then in first place, was seen on national television. Larry is a graduate civil engineer out of the University of Kansas who twice seriously considered giving up baseball. As a high school soph, he was good enough to tour Kansas as a ranking tennis amateur. His parents persuaded him to return to baseball. And after coming out of the Army at 26, he was about to pursue an engineering career when his wife turned him back to baseball. These turning points could prove great breaks for the Mets because Larry can fire and he has demonstrated he can win.

MUSGRAVES, Dennis

Pitcher

Born December 25, 1943, at Indianapolis, Ind. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 188 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Single. Lives in St. Louis, Mo.

This lanky lad with the poise and the breaking stuff was signed for the largest bonus ever paid by the Mets for a free agent. He improved as his first pro season went along and had a shutout for Williamsport. Musgraves was a key member of the University of Missouri teams which finished second in the NCAA "World Series".

PARSONS, Thomas Anthony Pitcher

Born September 13, 1939, at Lakeville, Conn. Height: 6 ft. 7 in. Weight: 215 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married. Lives in Lakeville.

Purchased from the Pirates last September 14, the Mets' tallest player was brilliant in three of his four outings. A day after reporting, he blanked the Giants in two innings of relief. Five days after that, he pitched a 6-hitter but dropped a 1-0 verdict to Houston. His final appearance gave him his biggest thrill, however. That was in the next-to-last game against the Cardinals. He delayed their pennant-clinching till the last day with a 5.1-inning, one-run relief job which gave him his first big league victory. The sidearmner allowed five hits. Parsons is a grad of Housatonic Valley Regional High in Lakeville, Conn., where he earned four letters in baseball and two in basketball. When he was captain of the baseball team as a senior,

he pitched four no-hitters. He is a product of Little League and Pony League ball.

RIBANT, Dennis

Pitcher

Born September 20, 1941, at Detroit, Mich. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married and lives in Burlington, Ontario, Canada.

Obtained from the Braves' Denver farm club on Aug. 8, 1964, in a trade for Frank Lary, Dennis shut out the Pirates on a four-hitter nine days later. Also, he fanned 10, tying the Mets' record for one game. He never quite equalled that performance again although he had stretches of three to five innings when he was practically invincible. Dennis is a natural athlete who has been offered big league hockey tryouts. In his first pro baseball season for Davenport in 1961, he pitched a seven-inning perfect game against Clinton, Iowa.

RICHARDSON, Gordon

Pitcher

Born July 19, 1939, at Colquitt, Ga. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Throws lefthanded, bats righthanded. Lives in Colquitt.

This stocky southpaw came with Johnny Lewis from the Cards in a trade for Tracy Stallard last December 8. He relieves and he starts and last year he did well in both departments. He earned a promotion to the Cards by pitching two shutouts and completing five of his nine starts in the International League. Right after joining the Cards, Gordon got into the thick of the pennant race by beating the then-first place Phillies, 6-1, on a five-hitter. Gordon's earned run average for Jacksonville and St. Louis was something special.

Born September 16, 1941 at Brooklyn, N. Y. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 184 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Single and lives in Carle Place, N. Y.

The Mets drafted this lad from the Tigers organization after his first brilliant season. But tragedy struck early in '63 when a bone in his arm broke. He recovered to attend the Mets' camp last spring. He looked good but had to defer his big chance when the U.S. Marines called. He returned to baseball working out this winter with the Mets' St. Petersburg instructional club.

Born November 4, 1943, at Santa Ana, Calif. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 165 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married and lives in Fresno, Calif.

A product of the same Fresno High School which sent Dick Ellsworth and Jim Maloney to big league stardom, Dick has had to come up the harder way. He was passed up by scouts who thought him too small. However, the gritty fastballer has caused a few raised eyebrows by his rapid rise to the Mets on the basis of two winning seasons. Signed out of Fresno City College in June, 1963, Dick still had time to lead the California League in strikeouts earned run average and completions, 16.

Born September 15, 1937, at Charleston, S. C. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married and has one son and one daughter and lives in Sparks, Nevada.

Purchased from the White Sox on April 23, 1964, Charlie's first impression was hardly eye-catching. He went 26 at-bats before hitting safely. After that, he was pretty impressive, leading the Mets in homers with 20 while batting a productive .254. Four of his homers were against the world champion Cardinals, two in the final crucial series. Lew Burdette was his home-run victim three times and Don Drysdale twice. Most of the year, Charlie played third base but he showed new promise in a late trial in left field. The year before, his shortstopping sparked Indianapolis to the International League pennant.

STEPHENSON, John HermanCatcher

Born April 13, 1941, at South Portsmouth, Kentucky. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats lefthanded, throws righthanded. Married and lives at Hattiesburg, Miss.

Already ticketed for farming out to Buffalo, John cracked a home run June 29 off the Giants' Bob Bolin to give the Mets something to remember him by. Then, he proceeded to slash the ball at Buffalo earning a return trial with Casey Stengel, whose eye he caught in camp last spring. Besides catching, John is an accomplished outfielder who can play third, too. Among his distinctions last season were being the 27th out in Jim Bunning's perfect game (a strikeout) and hitting a grand slam at Buffalo. A Bachelor of Science graduate of William Carey College in Hattiesburg, Miss., where he captained the basketball and baseball teams as a senior, John served as assistant basketball coach there the past two winters.

SUTHERLAND, Darrell WaynePitcher

Born November 14, 1941, at Glendale, California. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married, has one son and lives in Palo Alto, Calif.

This lanky graduate of Stanford University has much to recommend him. Claimed by the Mets from the Phillies after his first pro season, Darrell earned a brief mid-season trial in the big leagues in 1964. He did his best work at Buffalo, however, topping the International League in percentage for pitchers with more than ten decisions. He came within one out of a seven-inning no-hitter against Toronto. He has a number of things in common with his manager, Casey Stengel. Darrell, holder of an AD Degree in Economics, works in a bank near Stanford. His birthplace is Glendale, Calif., where Casey now lives. Darrell comes from a ball-playing family. His dad, Ralph, was a minor league player. And a younger brother, Gary, was recently signed as a pitcher by the Phillies.

SWOBODA, Ronald Alan"Ron"*Outfielder

Born June 30, 1944, at Baltimore, Md. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Dundalk, Md.

This rugged fellow made an impressive plunge into pro ball last season. Fresh off the University of Maryland campus, Ron missed the home-run championship in the Class AA Eastern League by one and won an All-Star berth. He does everything well and caught the eye of Manager Casey Stengel in the Mets' camp last spring where he hit .300 before being farmed out. Only five outfielders in his league threw out more baserunners. At Buffalo and Williamsport, he tried to steal six times and made it every time. Pete Gebrian is the scout who landed him. Ron is of Polish-Slovak-German descent.

TAYLOR, Robert Dale "Hawk" Catcher-Outfielder

Born April 3, 1939, at Metropolis, Illinois. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married, has one son and lives in Metropolis.

All this erstwhile Braves bonus baby ever asked for was a chance. He got one last June 20 when he came in to catch for the Mets after the early expulsion of Chris Cannizzaro. Bob socked two homers and two singles and his 10 total bases tied a club record set by Duke Snider. He's had other moments, too, as in the Sept., 1962, game when he went 5-for-5 against Houston.

WAKEFIELD, William Sumner "Bill" Pitcher

Born May 24, 1941, at Kansas City, Missouri. Height 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married, lives in Leawood, Kan.

This good-looking newlywed turned out to be quite a handsome reliever last season as a rookie. It's too bad that his four starting assignments spoiled what otherwise might have been a near-spectacular record. In his 58 relief appearances, Bill had a 3-2 won-lost mark with two saves and a 2.74 ERA. In fact, he was unscored upon in his last 11 straight relief jobs, and in 14 of his last 15. His four starts resulted in three defeats and a 9.60 ERA. Fastballing Bill came to the Mets with George Altman from the Cards Nov. 4, 1963, in a trade for Roger Craig. In a game at San Antonio in 1962, he fanned 17. At Penbroke Country Day School in Kansas City, he was quite the boy, president of his class from freshman through junior years, and student council president as a senior. He captained the baseball and basketball teams and averaged 40 yards as a punter. In the summers of 1956-58, he was office boy for the Kansas City A's. Although he broke his pitching wrist as a freshman at Stanford University, the Cardinals signed him. He has a B.A. in economics.

WEBER, Anthony Keith "Keith" Pitcher

FARM HAND ASSISTING IN SPRING TRAINING.

Born April 27, 1942, at Jefferson City, Mo. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married. Lives in Jefferson City.

Keith was signed by Scout Walt Millies last Nov. 5 after the University of Missouri graduate had returned from winning his two starts for the U.S. in the Olympic Games baseball demonstration in Japan. Weber, a fastballer, was 11-1 for Mizzou as it finished second in the NCAA "World Series". As a junior, he was 7-0. Keith was Missouri's first-string quarterback through his junior year then concentrated on baseball.

WILLEY, Carlton Francis

"Carl"

Pitcher

Born June 6, 1931, at Cherryfield, Maine. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 175 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married, has two children.

In a career of startling valleys and peaks, Carl is ready to begin still another comeback climb. He was struck a terrible blow a few days before last season's opener when a line smash by Detroit's Gates Brown shattered Carl's jaw and cheek and all but immobilized him. This was after a brilliant four-shutout season with the Mets in '63. That had been his first solid season since he joined the Braves in their '58 pennant drive, led the N.L. in shut-outs with four, and won The Sporting News Award as N.L. Rookie Pitcher of the Year. Carl still has the stuff and is one of Pitching Coach Warren Spahn's major reclamation projects.

YATES, Albert Arthur

"Bunny"

Outfielder

Born April 26, 1945, at Jersey City, New Jersey. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Single and lives in Maywood, N. J.

This guitar-strumming lad was signed out of a Mets tryout camp by Scout Pete Gebrian and was an almost instant success. He collected his first pro hit in his second at-bat, a pinch-homer for Auburn against Batavia last May 6. Later, at Cocoa, he won recognition as the best defensive outfielder in the Florida Rookie League and wound up second in batting. He tied for the league lead in triples and homers and was first in runs batted in. His biggest hit at Cocoa was a two-out ninth-inning homer with the bases filled which beat the Detroit farmhands July 27 by 4-3. He's a product of Little League ball and likes all kinds of water sports and rides horses.
